6. GENERAL BUSINESS

6.1 Hastings Reid Cup

The Chairman noted that the Hastings Reid Cup, which had been a WAGA event of long standing for Presidents and Captains, had changed format under the Golf WA banner and encouraged clubs to support the event, which was to be held on Sunday March 13, 2011.

6.2 Golf Australia Report

Mr John Hopkins, Chairman of Golf Australia's Rules and Handicapping Committee, addressed the meeting on matters relevant to that Committee. Before doing so, he congratulated Max Hannah and Dianne Tomlin on their work in achieving amalgamation.

- a) Golf Australia was in the process of reorganising their committees. High Performance would now be very much done "in house" with their goal to produce Major winners.
- b) A Rules Sub-Committee will be formed and Mr Hopkins was delighted that Clayton Bell would be WA's representative on that sub-committee.
- c) A Course Rating Sub-Committee was also being formed.
- d) A Handicapping sub-committee would be formed which will reflect greater club representation than has previously been the case
- e) In terms of handicapping, it was noted that:-
  - There was a noted difference between results in men's and women's fields under the new handicapping system
  - In response to a question from Alison Eather (WAGC), Mr Hopkins surmised that the differences may be because there were more low markers in men's fields than women's fields and that the system also works better in smaller fields.
  - An official from the USGA will be visiting Australia next week and a range of sessions will be conducted on the eastern seaboard to ascertain feedback. All states will have representation.
- f) A successful 2011 Australian Women's Open had been staged at Commonwealth Golf Club. Golf Australia is hoping to have the event co-sanctioned with the US LPGA in 2012.
- g) The 2011 Men's Australian Open was most likely to be held at The Lakes Golf Club, Sydney.
- h) Golf Australia's Flood Relief Appeal had raised approximately $600,000.

6.3 Don Bartlem (Hartfield Country Club) commented that he felt the recent Golf Industry Dinner was an embarrassment to Golf WA and wondered whether we should continue to endorse the event in its current format.

6.4 The Chairman noted that Rick Malone and Lisa Braddock had not sought re-election for the new Golf WA Board. He thanked both of them for their considerable input on the Board since its inception in 2010. Acclamation

7. CLOSE

There being no further business, the meeting closed at 8.25 p.m.
